

Angle between vectors

The scalar product connects algebraic components with the angle between

