

Initial conditions change the constant

The shape is controlled by the differential equation; the starting value selected

